One Dead, Five Injured In Crash

GI Killed On Way To Home

Car Crowded From Highway

Tragedy today struck at six Air Force youths homeward bound for Christmas, when their car ran off the road near Hayesville, killing one and injuring five. Two were hurt seriously.

All were attached to the unit at Lowrey Field, Denver, Colo., and were believed to be residents of the eastern seaboard.

Dead:

Kenneth Engelbrecht, 19, of Babylon, N. Y., who died of a head injury.

Injured:

Robert G. Brailler, 20, fracture of left leg above knee, laceration of scalp, multiple contusions and abrasions.

Robert G. Potter, 18, believed to be of Waltham, Mass., laceration of scalp, contusions and abrasions of forehead.

Ray D. Dickson, 18, bruises.

Engelbrecht's body was removed to the Fickes funeral home in Jeromesville pending notification of the air base and relatives.

All the injured were taken to Ashland Samaritan hospital where Brailler and Patrick were reported in "fair" condition. Hospital attendants said the two youths would be removed to an Army hospital in the vicinity today.

Potter, Geary and Dickson were given first aid and were to be sent to Mansfield's Army station.

Addresses of the injured were not immediately available.

Ashland sheriff's deputies, who investigated the accident, said the mishap occurred at 8:10 a. m. Officers said Geary told them he was headed east on the highway when "a 1936 Ford came around the curve on my side of the white line and crowded me over."

Deputies said the 1941 car Geary was driving ran off the road and overturned several times. Witnesses to the accident summoned the hospital and deputies.

AFL Moves Into Firm

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The American zinc Oxide company involved in a labor dispute with the CIO Smelter Workers union, yesterday recognized the AFL International Chemical Workers as bargaining agent for production and maintenance employes.

The CIO union struck the plant Aug. 13 after the company refused to sign a new contract until the union's international officer swore out non-communist affidavits under the Taft-Hartley act.

Since then, the plant has been the scene of strike disorders climaxed two weeks ago by a commando-like raid on a group of non-strikers about to pass through picket lines. The attackers swung clubs and five non-strikers were hurt, none seriously.

The company then issued an ultimatum saying any employe not at work Dec. 15 would be dropped from the payroll. Since that date, the firm has been hiring new workers.

Dutch Blitz Flayed

PARIS—(INS)—Australia denounced Dutch action in Indonesia as "worse than Hitler" today, and suggested that Holland's "expulsion from the United Nations may well be the result."

Australia's W. R. Hodgson, scathingly criticizing the Dutch, told the security council that Holland's attack on the Indonesian republic is a "violation of a solemn undertaking."

Netherlands' "brusque" rejection of Republican compromise offers, he said, was "worse than what Hitler did to Holland in 1940."

Syria and Colombia supported the American move, for which Soviet support was also predicted. But Britain and France, who have colonial troubles of their own in the Far East, wavered on the issue.

INDIA ACTS

In New Delhi, the Indian government suspended the operating rights of the Dutch airlines in Indian territory today "in view of the military action taken by the Dutch government against Indonesia."

The suspension order officially forbids Dutch planes to land in or fly across Indian territory as from 2:30 p. m. today.

Meanwhile Dutch forces had launched new offensives in east and west Java and landed new troops on Sumatra in a race to occupy main Republican strongholds before the security council acts.

A Dutch army communique said troops were carried by seaplanes to Lake Toba, in north Sumatra, from where they fanned out to take the airfield at nearby Siborongborong.

At the same time, the Dutch drove in a pincers movement in west Java, pushed on to south Babat in east Java, and tightened their ring about the mountain ranges in central Java.

Seven Killed When Rioting Hits Shanghai

SHANGHAI—(INS) — At least seven persons were killed and hundreds seriously injured today when some 200,000 Chinese men and women stormed government banks in downtown Shangahi to exchange paper currency for gold bullion and silver dollars.

The casualty figures resulting from the riots were announced by the Shangahi city government.

In addition to the seven "definitely known" to have been crushed to death, the official announcement stated, many of the seriously injured were expected to die before nightfall. Hundreds of the injured were being steadily brought into crowded hospitals hourly.

Mounted and foot police, carrying fixed bayonets, struggled to restore order in the vast and riotous multitude, but were powerless to do so amid scenes of unparalleled confusion.

Company Aids Laid-Off Men

MEDINA — (INS) — Officials of the Permold company of Medina, unable to provide work for 75 men, are doing the next best thing to see that the workers laid off have a happy Christmas.

The company placed the following advertisement in the city's newspaper today: "Work wanted. We have a number of good reliable employes temporarily out of work. Have you any odd jobs? Repairing machinery — buildings —painting — cutting fence posts or timber—clearing up the wood lot—ditching or tiling?"

Ten Santas Feted

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Department store Santas were feted with a Christmas dinner last night by manager Ray J. McSoley of Hotel Statler. Resplendent in red and white suits, shiny black boots and flowing white whiskers (two sets of them real), 10 Santas turned up for the party.

But Snow Blanket Will Be Thin

Ohioans Promised White Christmas

Mansfielders needn't dream of a white Christmas any longer, says the weatherman. The entire midwest can expect a white blanket by Saturday.

The "official" announcement, however, was tempered with reservations—the first that the snow will be light, and the second that it probably will melt before Christmas is over.

Snow is expected to fall tomorrow after a slight drop in temperature. The mercury stood at 25 degrees at noon today in Mansfield.

Fresh falls of snow in the central Rockies today spread eastward into the central plains.

The north central states also had the nation's coldest weather. Temperatures dropped from 10 to 15 degrees and far below zero in some points near the Canadian border. The mercury dipped to 16 below at Bismarck, N. D., and to -14 at Grand Forks, N. D. Sub-zero readings were reported over parts of Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Montana.

Part of southern California also will have a blanket of white, the weatherman said. However, rain was the best he could forecast for the region south of the Ohio river.

The Los Angeles weather bureau said that rain and a possible repetition of "phenomenal waterspouts" also could be expected in southern California.

SEE WATER SPOUTS

The waterspouts, unusual in an area where unusual weather is commonplace, startled Santa Montico Beach residents late yesterday. One huge cone swirled to a height of 1,500 feet before withdrawing to its parent cloud.

A lifeguard said he counted six of the spouts which boiled "like a steaming kettle."

The forecaster said the waterspouts were miniature tornadoes, caused by unstable air masses. He said they are common to the Gulf of Mexico, but were the first he had seen in southern California waters.

Nude Torso Discovered

SACRAMENTO, CAL., — (UP) — A young woman whose nude torso was found floating in the American river may have been the victim of a sex maniac, authorities said today.

Police were attempting to identify the body found yesterday by Angelo S. Pellegrini, 17, of North Sacramento. Pellegrini was hunting rabbits on a ranch bordering the river when he spotted the corpse.

He notified the sheriff who sent deputies to remove the body from the water.

The legs had been sawed off at the hips and the head was missing. The fingernails bore red polish, a costume bracelet, with two rows of green and white stones in a setting of gold mesh, was around one wrist.

Ruling Hits Brake Firm

Judge Signs Consent Decree

NEW YORK — (AP) — Federal Judge John C. Knox signed a consent decree and judgment against the Westinghouse Air Brake company yesterday, ending alleged restraints of trade in the braking system industry.

The justice department on Dec. 9, 1947, charged the Westinghouse firm and six corporate defendants with conspiring to monopolize the automotive and industrial brake industry in the U. S. in violation of the federal anti-trust laws.

Westinghouse and the Bendix Aviation corporation of South Bend, Ind., also were accused in the complaint with suppressing competition in the manufacture and sale of automotive braking systems by cross-licensing braking patents on an exclusive basis.

The complaint also said Westinghouse kept itself free of competition in the railway brake field and restrained trade in automotive brakes by forming the Bendix - Westinghouse Automotive Air Brake company of Elyria, Ohio, to exploit braking system patents.

Knox's action covers only that part of the alleged conspiracy involving the Westinghouse Air Brake company. The suit still is pending against the Bendix-Westinghouse firm and the other defendants.

Finds People Kind

'Wild Man' of Cape Fear' Ends Sojourn

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. — (UP)—The "Wild Man" of Cape Fear River" came out of the woods today to spend Christmas in civilization

He turned out to be a mild-mannered little 72-year-old man who was driven into seclusion 20 years ago by grief for his dead wife.

Frequent reports of a ragged tattered, unshaven "wild man" roaming the Cape Fear river area here led Deputy Sheriff Dave McNeill to start a search to allay the fears of the river folk.

McNeill finally found him in a hut made of cardboard, pieces of tin and trees deep in the woods three miles from here.

He was ragged, tattered and unshaven, but far from wild. At the entrance to his shack was a holly tree, decorated with discarded Christmas cards.

The little man told McNeill that he was J. W. Williams and used to be a farmer here before his wife died in 1912. Life in civilization became more and more unbearable Williams said, until he finally took to the woods 20 years ago.

Since then he has lived in huts and caves along the river, eating berries, roots, mussles, fish, rabbit and an occasional 'possum.

Once in a while, Williams said, he would shave and "dress up" and go to town to attend church and buy razor blades with money he got by selling some fish or a trapped 'possum. People didn't recognize him as the "wild man" they glimpsed occasionally roaming the river area.

Today Williams seemed happy that his hermit days are over. The townspeople are "treating him right," he said They arranged fo. him to live in a two-room house on the edge of town and provided a haircut, shave, new clothes and blankets.

City officials saw to it that Williams got on the old-age assistance rolls. He didn't know he had it coming.

Williams said he has a daughter, Mrs. Eva Fultcher of near Winston-Salem, but he said he never bothered her because she has her hands full with five children.

"It will be nice to be back among people for Christmas," the old man said. "Twenty years is a long time in the woods."

Yule Spirit Thwarts Red Barricades

BERLIN —(INS— Berlin's blockade may bar many items for the western sector of the city—but it can not keep out Santa or the spirit of Christmas.

The dwindling stocks of Berlin's western sector shops have been magically bolstered by trinkets hoarded just for Christmas and other items smuggled through barricades.

As the Holy night approaches, many families, bundled in overcoats against the chill in their homes, adorn trees and wrap gifts.

OSR Guard Found Dead In Tower

Francis L. Healey Stricken at 58

Francis Lawrence Healey, 137 Ohio street, employed as a third-shift guard at the Mansfield reformatory for the past week and a half, was found dead at 6 a. m. today, slumped over his chair in the northeast tower. He was 58.

The body was found by a relief officer who came to take over Healey's post.

Richland County Coroner D. C. Lavender said death apparently was due to a heart ailment. He ruled out the possibility that Mr. Healey might have been overcome by gas fumes.

Supt. Arthur L. Glattke said Healey had reported from the tower at 5:20 a. m. Forty minutes later he was found dead.

NAMED DEC. 13

Healey, a former Westinghouse employe, was appointed to the guard position on Dec. 13 to take the 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. watch.

He was born on March 2, 1890, in Forest City, Pa., the son of Michael J. and Mathilda Goodrich Healey. Survivors include his wife, Ethel Lewis Healey; a sister, Mrs. Mary Shelly of Chicago, and one brother, Andrew Healey of Binghampton, N. Y.

The body has been taken to the Jones Memorial, where funeral services will be held Monday at 11 a. m. Burial will be in Mansfield Memorial Park. Friends will be received at the funeral home beginning Sunday.

Youth Gets Assist From Bank Workers

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Nine-year-old Ralph Alan Gregory has a new dog today — a present from employes of the school savings department of the Society for Savings bank.

Ralph's pup, Pal, was hit by an automobile last month. Before the dog recovered from the accident, he got distemper and died.

The child had withdrawn $10 from his school savings account to help pay expenses at the dog hospital.

Employes at the bank heard of the incident, took up a little collection, and today Ralph has a nine-week-old fox terrier puppy.

The bank employes also are going to make up the $10 Ralph withdrew from his account to doctor his sick dog.

Becomes Board Chairman

Soulen Takes Over Top Post

By SHELDON BINN

George W. Stephens, for 25 years president and general manager of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, has resigned that post to become chairman of the board of directors, effective Jan. 1.

In his place, Harry B. Soulen, present vice-president and factory manager, was named president and general manager.

"There will be little change in our operations," Stephens said, "we will both remain active. I just want to be relieved of some of my responsibilities because of my age and health."

Under the new arrangement, Stephens explained, "I will continue to have jurisdiction over policy but I will be relieved of some of the detail work."

"And I am confident that Mr. Soulen is capable of doing a fine job," Stephens said.

The action was taken at a meeting of the board of directors yesterday.

WITH FIRM 35 YEARS

Stephens has been with the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company since 1913. In 1919 he was named vice president and five years later was picked as president and general manager, a post that he has held ever since.

When Stephens joined the firm it was a small outfit. Since that time it has been built up to become one of Mansfield's major industries, with an annual payroll of more than $10,000,000.

Active in civic affairs, he is past president of the Chamber of Commerce and the Manufacturers club.

Speaking in glowing terms of Soulen, Stephens said he had been with the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company for 11 years, coming here from the Kelley Springfield Tire and Rubber company, Cumberland, Md., where he was vice president and factory manager.

The Kelley Springfield concern is a subsidiary of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company.

Soulen has been in the rubber industry for 30 years and worked for the Federal Rubber company, Milwaukee, Wis., before going to the Maryland firm.

He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, class of 1919, holding a degree in electrical engineering.

Mundt Asks Fair Play

NEW YORK — (INS) — Congressional spy hunter Karl Mundt today called upon the FBI to disclose why it questioned Laurence H. Duggan only a few days before he plunted to his death from a New York skyscraper.

The House unAmerican Activities committee member said the information should be made public out of fairness to Duggan's family.

Mundt's request, made in a nationwide radio broadcast, came on the heels of an allout investigation order by New York's mayor William O'Dwyer to seek the cause of the former state department official's death plunge.

Homicide detectives, in two separate reports, said that Duggan did not meet with foul play before he plunged from the 16th floor of the New York office building. Police said as far as they are concerned Duggan "jumped or fell."

Good Old Days Were When Santa Packed a Bag Instead of Sandbag

But I suppose no one will ever bring it back. That Christmas is covered up with the years. It is laid away with childhood, in that vanished time when being a child was more simple than it is today.

And Christmas was simple then, too. Everything was simpler.

Dad brought home a four-bit tree and set it up in the living room. The base was made by knocking one end out of a fruit box. There weren't any fancy metal gadgets.

It didn't take half a week's income to decorate the tree. We put on a few spangled candle holders, a star, and rope after rope of cranberries and popcorn strung on thread from mom's sewing kit. It was a beautiful tree, simple and satisfying.

Everyone in the family got a special pleasure out of it because he had done something himself to make it prettier.

In those long ago days the tradition of the Christmas stocking was taken very seriously. Dad entered into the game, too, and hung up his sock along with the others.

"Put one up with a hole in it—you'll get more," he joked. and sure enough, one of the smaller boys did that. But Santa Claus, too crafty to be caught by that old ruse, plugged the sock with an orange.

What ever happened to that old-fashioned Christmas? I was talking to a friend about it the other day, and he said:

"That was the kind of Christmas I had as a boy, too. But it has gone up the chimney.

"I paid $5 for a Christmas tree we bought to throw on it cost me more than my father earned the week he married my mother. When we were through we didn't have a Christmas tree—we had a Hollywood production. And that's exactly what it looked like: all tinsel and no warmth. There wasn't a home-made thing on it."

And my friend remarked that the whole spirit of Christmas had changed—to him at least—since his boyhood.

"As I remember it," he said, "Christmas was a time when you bought a few presents for close friends or members of the family. Today I get the idea that Christmas is just a parade of people going by me with their hands out.

"My wife said she didn't know whether she'd be albe to afford anything for me this year. She said she had to tip her hairdresser, the grocery boy, the mailman, the maid who comes every other Saturday, the butcher, the building superintendent, the milkman, the fellow who delivers from the liquor store—and half a dozen other people. As husband, it seems I'm last in line."

American Children Erect Living Monument on Barren Israel Hill

A grove of trees has been planted on a barren hill in Israel. The grove will be a monument to the 1,250,000 Jewish children who perished in Europe as a result of Nazi attend the First Congregational church in Milton, Mass. These youngsters gave up candy and did odd jobs to earn money for the gift.

The grove will also be a monument to the decency of these wonderful American children.

Basil Robert McAllister lives in a lonely one-room apartment in the Bronx. Since VE-Day he has been using every spare minute and every spare penny from his modest bank teller's salary to help needy folks in Finland. He has been sending packages of food and clothing—to 25 Finnish families. Some of the Finns he has aided are his friends—most are strangers...Postage alone cost him $700 in one year. McAllister admits it has taken most of his savings.

But he explains it simply and beautifully: "I spent as much as I could spare. Don't you think it's more important for kids to have milk and shoes than to watch the bankroll?"

P. S.: He is a bachelor.

In Hempstead (Long Island) a Congregational Church has been built in the last two years by community effort. Every Sunday and holiday the members of the congregation, men, women and children, devoted their time and effort to building the church. There were many tasks—electrical wiring, glazing, painting, landscaping, etc.

But it isn't only the congregation's members who have taken part in building the edifice. Other non-member neighbors have joined in. Among them are Jews Catholics—and a Mohammedan.

Special Delivery Needed Now

Ford Says Greetings May Be Too Late

Mansfielders who plan to mail Christmas gifts or cards tomorrow for local distribution, should send them special delivery if they wish them delivered Christmas day, Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford said today.

Ford said only special delivery and perishables will be delivered Christmas unless the volume of Christmas parcels sent by regular mail warrants delivery and volunteers can be obtained to deliver them Christmas morning.

The Christmas mailing rush which has kept postal employes working at top speed this week, began to slacken off this morning and the post office expects mail to be lighter again tomorrow.

The number of temporary employes being used by the post office was reduced from a peak of 121 Tuesday to 84 this morning. However, the post office still is using 14 trucks for parcel post deliveries and maintaining three shifts at the Armory.

Yesterday cancellations at the post office totaled 104,845, compared with 20,823 on the same day a year ago.

Forty thousand stamps were sold yesterday, the same number as a year ago. However, the amount of stamp sales yesterday was $1,832, compared with $875, the same day a year ago.

Postal receipts yesterday were $2,477, an increase of $594 over the same day last year.

Yule Parties Thrill 2,600 Children

More than 2,700 Mansfield children were entertained yesterday and this morning with specially arranged Christmas programs and treats by two of the city's industrial firms and a Mansfield service club.

Tappan Stove company's annual Yuletide show brought together at the Ohio theater yesterday afternoon and evening more than 800 children, most of whom were from company families.

Entertaining the 1,600 children and adults who attended each performance was a five-star professional show. But a 4-year-old acrobat stole the show. She was Roberta Mack, sixth generation of the acrobat Mack family who was tossed about by her father.

The show included a ventriloquist, a family of five jugglers, whose performance with bright colored dumbbells was a perfectly-timed act; six Dalmatian dogs; a harmonica team and the Mack family.

Opening the show, following the welcome by Alan P. Tappan, were three Bugs Bunny films, followed by the professional acts. Finally, Santa Claus walked on the stage with his gift-filled bag and an excited throng of children rose to their feet ready to receive their stockings filled with candy and toys. As guests of the company were 30 children from the Richland County Children's home.

OPTIMISTS ENTERTAIN

At the Optimist party at the Richland Recreation Center last night, 112 boys were entertained and treated by Santa Claus.

The party was sponsored by the Senior Optimist club with Junior Optimists from Friendly House acting as hosts to 37 other boys, 20 of whom were from the Children's Home.

The party began with dinner at 5:30 p. m., followed by a program of entertainment.

Christmas songs were sung by the Humdinger quarter, comprised of Ralph Hughes, A. T. VanAuker, John Whitcomb and Russell Moore. Paul Baich entertained with accordion numbers and several from the Amvets Minstrel cast, give "blackface" numbers.

Maurice Taylor, executive secretary at the YMCA, led in coordination stunts, then spoke briefly to the boys. He told them they should be happy to be living in America, the land of opportunity for everyone.

When Santa gave out gifts, Attorney John F. Kramer added a silver dollar for each boy present. Gil Baird was master of ceremonies.

At the Westinghouse company show this morning at the Ohio theater, 1,800 younger members of company families greeted Santa Claus and were entertained by movies and several vaudeville acts.

There were trained dogs, a troupe of tumblers and acrobats. There was a community sing.

Probers Blast 20 Unions

UE Officials Are On List

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The House Un-American Activities committee today listed 13 CIO union leaders as communists and said 20 CIO affiliates are now or have been under communist control.

In a study on communism in the labor movement, the committee said that in the event of war between the United States and Russia, communists would "try to stall the (American) war machine in its tracks."

Among the unions cited as communist-dominated were the west coast International Longshoremen's union and the United Electarical Workers. The report said that in wartime the longshoremen's union would have an opportunity to "wreck the whole U. S. fighting power." And the electrical workers' union, it said, would have vital war plants "at its mercy."

Many of the union officials named as communists by the committee have been so described previously by congressional investigators. Those on today's list included Harry Bridges, president of the Longshoremen's Union; Julius Emspak and James Matles of the Electrical Worwers; and Abram Flaxer, president of the United Public Workers of America.

The lists of unions and officials were carried in a pamphlet entitled "100 things you should know about communism and labor." It is one of a series of five committee pamphlets on communism in the United States.

MURRAY LAUDED

The committee lauded CIO President Philip Murray for his denunciation of communists at the recent convention of his organization. It said the ouster of the Greater New York CIO council was "the biggest single blow" the communists have suffered in the CIO.

Despite Murray's efforts, the committee said, communists are "still in the saddle" in a number of CIO unions.

Some of these unions have "belatedly tried to clean out the communists," the committee said. As an example, it cited the Transport Workers Union "under the aggressive direction of its president, Michael Quill."

In addition to Bridges, Emspak, Matles and Flaxer, the un-American activities group cited the following as "examples of communist officers:"

Ben Gold, president of the fur workers; Donald Henderson, president of the food and tobacco workers; James Lustic, representative of District 4, electrical workers; Irving Potash, vice-president of fur workers; William Sentner, president of District 8, electrical workers; Maurice Travis, secretary of the mine, mill and smelter workers; Philip M. Connelly, secretary of the Los Angeles CIO council; and Samuel Burt and Julius Fleiss, vice-president and business agent, respectively, of the fur workers.

Great Lakes Steel Loses Suit For Rail Overcharges

The Great Lakes Steel corporation, which maintained a fabricating plant in Mansfield during the war, lost a suit against three railroads for $500,000 for alleged overcharges on wartime shipments, the United Press reported from Detroit yesterday.

The case was heard before three federal judges on an appeal for an Interstate Commerce commission ruling in favor of the railroads.

The steel company had asked reparations from the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, Erie Railroad and the Pennsylvania railroad.

U. S. Circuit Judge Charles C. Simons and District Judges Arthur F. Lederle and Frank A. Picard dismissed the action on grounds that the federal court in Detroit lacked jurisdiction.

The suit explained that Great Lakes shipped steel from plants in New York, New Jersey and Michigan to a fabricating plant in Mansfield, where the metal was Converted into Quonset huts.

At Mansfield the government would designate a port for overseas shipment. The steel company asked reparations because railroads had charged them for two separtate shipments instead of one continuous shipment from steel plant to port.

There was no announcement whether Great Lakes would appeal the ruling.

CLEVELAND Indian officials will really hit the hard bun circuit this winter . . . More than 500 requests for speaking engagements have reached the Tribe offices . . . President Bill Veeck will get help from Hank Greenberg, vice-president; Muddy Ruel, assistant director of the farm system and Jack Graney, member of the 1920 Cleveland team who now broadcasts Indian games.

Muddy Ruel Says Tribe Staff Tops

CLEVELAND (AP) — A fellow who should know says the world champion Cleveland Indians have the greatest depth in pitching he has ever seen.

Herold (Muddy) Ruel, former bullpen coach who now is a member of the Tribe's farm organization, maintains that no team he can recall possessed the potential pitching strength the Indians have with Bob Feller, Bob Lemon, Gene Bearden, Early Wynn, Steve Gromek, Sam Zoldak, Frank Papish and Satchel Paige.

EIGHT TOP STARS

"There are eight established major league pitchers," the former catching star said last night on the Press club's weekly radio program. "Every one of them may be classified as a starter and several of them may be used effectively as a relief pitcher. I cannot recall a staff that has had such depth."

"To begin with," he continued, "the Indians have Feller. I don't want to say that Feller will return to form, because his record of 19 victories last season is not bad form. I will say that Feller will win next season.

"Fundamentally, there is nothing the matter with the man. He is ambitious and determined, a tireless competitor. In the face of much adversity last season, he accomplished a great deal. I have the highest respect for Feller's ability.

"Lemon, in my mind, is going to be a great pitcher. He is still young, in the sense of pitching experience. Bearden will face the dangerous second year. I do not mean by that that Bearden will not win. He will. He has an elusive ball. And he, also, has much determination.

"Gromek is a major league pitcher. He'll win for us next year. And so will Wynn and Zoldak and Papish. Maybe Mike Garcia is closer than we believe. Then, of course, we have our old friend, Satchel."

REMINDED OF YANKS

Ruel was reminded of the New York Yankees' hurling staff of 1927, a group that included Waite Hoyt, Herb Pennock, Urban Shocker, Wilcy Moore and George Pipgras.

"An excellent staff," Ruel said, "but Cleveland still has more depth. You must remember that Yankee pitching that season had a powerful attack behind it. Men like Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Tony Lazzeri."

Ruel then was asked to compare the Tribe's pitching with that of the Philadelphia Athletics of 1931, when Lefty Grove, George Earnshaw, Rube Walberg, Leroy Mahaffey and Eddie Rommel formed a formidable staff. The first four mentioned in that list won 87 games, Grove leading with 31.

"With all due respect to Grove, who was one of the greatest ever," Ruel said, "that staff lacked depth. The A's had no reserves to call upon if anything happened to Grove or Earnshaw. No, I'll go along with my original statement. The Indians have the best."

Ontario Battles Bellville In 'Big' County Loop Game

Ontario will attempt the second hurdle in its "big week" tonight when it is host to Bellville in a Richland county basketball league game.

The Warriors slipped past the first rough spot Tuesday when they rapped Lexington, 38-34, and will have a two-game lead over all opposition if they win tonight. Such a lead with only eight games remaining would be extremely difficult to overcome.

Bellville, on the other hand can tie for first place with a victory. The Blue Jays lost to Lexington by two points in the season opener and have been coming fast since, winning their four league contests. Ontario is unbeaten in six games, five in the league.

INCREASES LEAD

The Warriors' Howard Sunnucks increased his county scoring lead in Lexington game by getting 19 points to bring his total to 78 in five games.

Lucas and Union, two of the surprise teams of the circuit, will meet at Lucas in the only other game. Lucas, which has won its last two games, could advance as far as a tie for second place with a victory.

Brown Tackle Puts Stop To Rumors of Job

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Burly Chet Adams today scotched rumors that he is being considered for the head coaching position at Ohio university.

The Cleveland Browns tackle declared he has not been approached as yet concerning the job, and that "as far as that goes, I'd like to play another year of professional football."

Adams, an Ohio U. alumnus, starred with the Los Angeles Rams and Chicago Bears in the national football league before joining the Cleveland crew in the All-America conference.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., — (INS) — Art Lewis, head coach at Washington and Lee, said the coaching job at Ohio university, vacant today since Harold Wise's resignation, has not been offered him. But he added:

"I wouldn't mind going home."

Rumors that Lewis was being considered for the job, brought forth a cryptic comment from the Ohio grad. He said:

"I'm always interested in looking for a job."

Palmer, a veteran of three years in the All-America conference, is considered one of the loop's outstanding linemen both on offense and defense. He was named to several All-America teams in his final year of college play with Tulane in 1942.

Rights to Sarkisian, an All-American center from Northwestern, had been obtained by the Browns at last year's AAC draft meeting.

Ohio State Nips Bears By 4 Points

(By Associated Press)

Ohio State university's touring basketball team had considerable trouble with California last night, but managed to sweep the two-game series at Berkeley.

The Bucks won, 68-64, after coasting to a 74-60 win over the Bears the night before. State now has won four games against one loss—to Oklahoma on the start of the western swing.

California jumped to a 13-8 lead on State before Dick Schnittker and Bob Donham sparked Coach Tippy Dye's crew into a 22-15 margin. The teams traded field goals until the final minute of the half, when California scored four points to narrow Ohio State's margin to 36-33 at halftime. Midway in the second half, OSU had a 63-49 edge, but the Bears fought back and with two minutes to play, the score was State 67, California 60.

CUTS INTO LEAD

Chris Flores, a California sub, then dropped two quick field goals to make it 67-64. But, with 15 seconds to go, Buckeye Ted Jacobs clinched the decision by notching a free throw. Schnittker paced the Bucks with 18 points, but Bob Walker of the Bears was high game scorer with 22.

Northwestern and Wisconsin's basketball teams wind up their Big Nine invasion of Pacific coast courts tonight with games at Southern California and UCLA respectively while Ohio State heads for Denver university. Three other Western conference teams scored victories against non-league foes.

REMAINS IN L. A.

Northwestern, which dropped a 49-to-44 decision to UCLA Tuesday remains in Los Angeles to play Southern California while Wisconsin engages UCLA. Southern California defeated the Badgers, 36 to 31, Tuesday.

Purdue won its sixth non-league contest last night to tie Indiana's pre-conference season mark, winning over Drake, 54 to 47, at Des Moines. The victory was Purdue's second straight over the Bulldogs.

Minnesota's Gophers kept their win streak intact, marking up their fifth victory with a 52 to 42 triumph over St. Mary's of California. Iowa was forced into overtime play before squeezing out a 47 to 46 victory over Texas Christian.

Cincy Bidding For Title Bout

CINCINNATI—(AP)—The Queen city, with a new, 15,000-seat sports arena due for completion early next year, is bidding for the return match between Freddie Mills, world's light heavyweight boxing champ, and Gus Lesnevich.

Lesnevich, of Cliffside, N. J., lost the title to the English scrapper in London last summer. Terms of that bout provided for a return match if the title should change hands.

Sam Becker, Cincinnati promoter, said yesterday Joe Vella, who manages Lesnevich, had invited him to New York to discuss the possibility of staging the match here. Becker said they may fly to England next week to confer with Mills.

John Leppo Blasts Big 279 Pin Count

Only three bowlers—an unusually small number for the City A league—fired honor roll scores last night on the Colony alleys. Two of these, however, were well above the 600 mark.

John Leppo of Bissman's went gunning for a perfect game and came home with a 279 final effort. Linked with scores of 170 and 210, it gave him the No. 1 spot of the night with a fine 659 series total.

Joe Lain of Ace Cabs was only nine points behind although he did his bowling in more consistent fashion. Joe hit for scores of 199, 238, and 213 for a 650 series. Hal LeMunyon of 36 Bar was the third kegler on the honor roll with 230-178-220—618.

Led by Leppo, the high flying Bissman team, swept three straight from Liederkranz to move into a three-game lead over the rest of the field. Jerry's 36 Bar won two of three games to hold onto second place, and had the best single game, a 1,020. Ace Cabs piled up a 2,854 total and took three games from Dr. Pepper.

Colony manager Art Hilborn missed the mark by 16 pins he pounded out 584. He was followed by his son, Bob Hilborn of Max Diner, 579; Emmett McIntire of Bissman's, 575; Jim Villella and Al Stirtzinger, both of Deschner's, 571; Ray McKinley, Eagles, 570; Ed Miller, Dr. Pepper, 569; and Orlie Grable, Mitsch's, 567.

Pairings for the annual Junior Independent basketball tournament to be held next week in the YMCA were announced today by "Y" Athletic Director Johnny Fike.

Fife said that four games will be played Monday afternoon, two Tuesday and the finals Wednesday afternoon. Eight teams are entered.

The Miracles and Nameless will open the tourney at :30 p. m. Monday. Following will be: Sutters vs. Bulldogs, 3:15; Pushovers vs. Saints, 4 p. m., and Frank's Grocery vs. South End Tigers, 4:45.

Tuesday the winner of Monday's first and second game will meet at 2:30 and the victors of the third and fourth games at 3:15. Finals are set for 2:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Pollock Gets Another Term On Commission

Earl C. "Pooch" Pollock, 611 Manchester road, has been reappointed to the Mansfield boxing and wrestling commission for a five-year term by Mayor Roy Vaughn.

Other members of the commission are: Harold Bloodgood, Fred Rosen, James A. Willard and John Miller.

Leading Fives Tangle In 'A' Loop Feature

The City A basketball league will have a single leader for the first time tonight. Martin Hardware and Ohio Sport Center are due to clash at 7 p. m. in John Simpson gym and to the winner will go the possession of the league lead.

The two teams are now tied with four victories and one defeat each.

A secondary feature of the contest will be the clash of two distinct systems of basketball offense. Martin Hardware specializes in a slow, passing game, while Sport Center plays a flashy, fire-wagon style.

Yuncker's will meet a handicapped Rogers Jewelry team in the 8 p. m. second game, while Richland Beverage and Penn Auto-Sporting Goods will meet in the nightcap.

The league's leading scorer, Dick Casad, will be missing from the Rogers lineup, as his coaching duties require his presence at the Ontario-Bellville high school game.

Connie Wants Long Ball Hitter

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Connie Mack, as spry as his 1948 Philadelphia Athletics, celebrated his 86th birthday today and said Santa Claus could oblige by bringing him a "long ball hitter."

A man who could hit a good one at the right time would do wonders for the A's who confounded the experts last year by "staying up there" through a major part of the season, Connie said.

Mack cut a birthday cake in his Shibe Park tower office and explained to reporters and photographers how he already had patched up one weakness of his '48 team.

GETS "HIT" TRIO

Last season Connie was plagued by the lack of a dependable pinch-hitter. To fill the gap he acquired Coaker Triplett, Wally Moses and Taft Wright during the off season.

But the old man, the A's have known in their 47-

about a Christmas present distance.

"We offered to buy or trade for a long-ball hitter," Connie said. "But they all want my best pitchers."

His pitching staff, considered the best in the American league, is Connie's pride and joy.

"I won't trade any of my pitchers unless I can get somebody to help our club," Mack said. "They offer a lot of players I wouldn't think of taking. I'm getting a lot of my own players from the farm system."

Mack, who has been connected with professional baseball for 61 years, said he offered St. Louis $150,000 and five players for "an ... Browns refused. The player was believed to be ... Dillinger.

Another recent addition to the A's is Jimmy Dykes, former third baseman here and ex-manager of the Chicago White Sox. Dykes will coach at first base.

"I'm glad to have Dykes back as a coach," Connie said of the player who was a favorite of Philadelphia fans in the early 1930's.

Mack said the A's played "over their heads last year, but a great deal depends on the same club for 1949." The team finished in fourth place, giving Philadelphia a first division club for the first time in 16 years.

His main ambition now, Connie said, is to "honor Philadelphia with another championship team." He has given the city nine pennants and five world's titles.

Senior High Schedules Nine Football Foes

Four NOAC Teams Open League Sked

There is a distinct possibility that Mansfield Senior high school will play eight football games before local fandom next fall.

Nine of the ten 1949 grid dates are filled on the schedule released today by Athletic Director Augie Morningstar of Senior high school. Seven of the games are listed at Arlin field with two on the road.

"The tenth game will be at home or on the road," Morningstar said. "It all depends where we can make the better deal."

Fred Staub, faculty manager of athletics, was busy today trying to line up an opponent for the open Nov. 4 date.

Four of the nine games are with opponents in the Northern Ohio Athletic Conference which will "go" for the first time during the 1949-50 school year. The six-team NOAC is made up of Mansfield, Massillon Washington, Warren Harding, Canton McKinley, Toledo Waite and Alliance.

TWO ON ROAD

The Tygers will play Warren and Waite here and will travel to Alliance and Massillon. Of the quartet, only Massillon was on the 1948 school. Waite was last met in 1946. Canton is expected to replace Waite on the Bengal slate in 1951.

Other home games are with Akron South, Cleveland East, Kent Roosevelt, Euclid and Springfield. The Tygers defeated both East and Springfield this fall while the other three teams are newcomers.

Teams dropped from the slate include two of the Bengals oldest rivals — Sandusky and Marion Harding. They were replaced to make room for league foes. Other 1948 opponents who will not be on the 1939 sked are Dayton Kiser, Marion Harding, Portsmouth, Hamilton and Whiting, Ind.

Which means the Tygers will have to work up almost a complete set of new rivalries.

MAY BE TOUGH

The Euclid school may be one of the toughest on the slate. Two Euclid Class A schools—Shore and Central—have been combined in one building and will operate as one athletically starting Sept. 1, 1949.

Morningstar's 1948 Senior high grid squad won seven of 10 contests, losing to Massillon, Hamilton and Whiting. Only five veterans of the club will be back next fall. They are: Guards Howie Tipper and Jim Miller; Tackle Tom Weaver and Backs A. C. Jenkins and Tom Tucker.

Center Walt Maurer, who started several games early in the season, will also be available.

The schedule follows:
Sept. 16—Akron South, here.
Sept. 23—Cleveland East, here.
Sept. 30—At Alliance.
Oct. 7—Warren Harding, here.
Oct. 14—Euclid, here.
Oct. 21—At Massillon.
Oct. 28—Kent Roosevelt, here.
Nov. 4—Open.
Nov. 11—Toledo Waite, here.
Nov. 18—Springfield, here.

Mitsch's Rolls Up Easy Court Loop Victory

Frankie Mitsch's rolled on its merry way in the Class B. National basketball league last night as it won its seventh straight game over the Independents, 44 14.

Mitsch's jumped into an 84 lead at the end of the first quarter and was never in trouble. Joe Miller led the way with nine points.

Four Square Gospel upset AVC, 37-30, in the only other game on the card at Senior high. Bob Milligan of Four Square pumped in 16 points to bring his season total to 57, the best in the loop. The victory put Four Square in a tie for second place with two victories and two defeats.

Texas Mines Back Scores 6 TD's In 1 Game

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — Six touchdowns in a single game by Fred Wendt of Texas Mines and a 97-yard run from scrimmage by Wally Gruber of the University of Detroit, were listed today among the outstanding individual achievements of the 1948 college football season.

Wendt, the nation's major college rushing leader, performed his 42-point trick (he also converted six extra points) against New Mexico A. & M. Wendt also gained 326 in 26 carries that day and became the first player ever to pile up more than 300 rushing yards in a single game during the 12 years the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau has kept tab on college performances.

PRIZE RUNS

Gruber's prize scrimmage run came against Villanova. The season's second longest run from scrimmage by Gerald Hackney of Kansas State, who went 96 yards against Kansas.

Stan Heath, Nevada's All-America quarterback, who led the major colleges in passing, set three new single game offensive records by gaining 327 yards on aerials and completing five touchdown passes against Oklahoma City, and by completing 22 passes against Tulsa.

Cleveland Ground Crew Works On Baseball Turf

By LARRY SMITH

CLEVELAND—(AP)—One would imagine there would be about as much activity around a baseball park in winter as there is at a bathing beach.

That's not the case in the wigwam of the world champion Cleveland Indians.

Out on the field of Municipal stadium, Emil Bossard and his ground-keeping crew are laying new sod in the outfield to repair the damage inflicted during the football season by the champion Cleveland Browns and their All-America conference opponents.

It's going to be a busy winter for Bossard, considered the best ground keeper in the business. Right after Christmas, he leaves for Marianna, Fla., where he'll build seven baseball diamonds for spring training use by 12 of the Indians' farm clubs.

INSPECTION TOURING

From Florida, Emil will stop off for a look at the park of the Tribe's Oklahoma City club, then head for San Diego for another inspection tour. The Indians recently arranged a working agreement with that Pacific Coast league club.

From the west coast he'll drop down to Tucson, Ariz., the Tribe's spring training base. After getting that field in shape, Bossard will swing north, stopping off at Dayton, another farm site, and then return to Cleveland to put the finishing touches on the Stadium greensward for the American league opener.

Up in the Stadium office, business Manager Rudie Schaffer and his staff are putting in a full day every day.

"We're just getting to the bottom of our World Series mail," Schaffer said.

"The letters aren't all complimentary, either," Rudie added. "A lot of people just can't understand why they weren't able to get world series tickets and we're answering every letter received, no matter what it's about."

Schaffer reported the number of season ticket applications had tripled since last year.

"We've already processed about 6,000 applications," he said.

Tulane Gives 'Cats Battle

NEW YORK — (UP) — Future rivals of Kentucky's great basketball got a dim, flickering ray of hope today—those ever-winning Wildcats are human, after all.

Ole Kaintuck marked up its seventh straight victory last night on their Louisville stamping grounds, but this time they had to work hard, worry a lot, and call on their best shots before edging a plucky team from Tulane, 51 to 47. It was Kentucky's 47th straight Southeastern Conference victory.

Tulane, suffering its first loss in nine games, proved nevertheless that it has one of the finest college teams in the country. And they earned carloads of praise for a game fight and refusing to quit, even when they trailed by 14 points in the second half.

Garden Gets 3 New Stars For Ring Show

NEW YORK —(AP)— Harry Markson's search for new talent to bolster sickly fight gates at Madison Square Garden has resulted in an all-star show for Jan. 14 featuring three brilliant newcomers—Vince Foster of Omaha, Roland La Starza of New York and Lil Arthur King of Toronto.

When Markson took over his director of the Twentieth Century Sporting club, he announced the door was wide open for new fighters from any section of the country.

Foster, La Starza and King scored terrific hits in semi-finals on the last three Garden shows. Markson rewarded all three by moving them into an all-star show.

GOOD-LOOKING KID

Foster, a good-looking kid with a sock, impressed local fans recently by overcoming the handicap of a severely cut eye to batter Tony Mistovich of Youngstown, Ohio, for a unanimous decision. Now he meets tough Tony Pellone of New York in the 10-round star bout.

La Starza, unbeaten in 28 pro fights, "arrived" Dec. 10 when he got up off the floor twice to stop Gene Gosney, Seminole, Okla. heavyweight in the semi to the Ezzard Charles-Joe Baksi bout. Markson has paired 21-year-old La Starza with Jimmy Evans of Brooklyn in an eight-rounder.

King, only 22, is the best-looking prospect to show here in many a year. He polished off Tony La Bua of Ozone Park, N. Y., with a third-round knockout on the semi to the Sandy Saddler-Terry Young main event.

Second Peace Meeting May Be Next Month

CHICAGO—(INS)—Next step in the weird negotiations between the National football league and the All-America conference may well occur in Chicago late next month, at the regular winter scheduled meeting of the NFL.

At that time, National league clubowners and the committee-of-five from the All-America conference may meet again in an effort to do what wasn't done in Philadelphia Monday.

It was generally agreed, by this time, that the Philadelphia parlay failed mostly because the NFL took its younger rival for granted.

Both George Halas of the National league Chicago Bears and Ben Lindheimer of the All-America's Los Angeles Dons confirmed in Chicago yesterday that a two-league setup was to have been discussed in Philadelphia.

National leaguers in Philadelphia and All-America clubowners in Cleveland, talking back and forth on the telephone before the Philadelphia meeting was arranged, had agreed, with a couple of NFL exceptions, that a two-league, peaceful organization, along baseball lines, was the right solution.

300 Dinner Tickets Sold

With more than three weeks until the date for the third annual Chamber of Commerce dinner, committee officials reported today more than 300 tickets have been sold.

Most of the tickets were sold to Chamber of Commerce members, their wives, and friends. Reservations are coming in daily, C. of C. officials report. As soon as member reservations are filled the ticket sale will be opened to the public.

A crowd of 1,500 is expected at the dinner, scheduled for Jan. 14 at the Coliseum, where a fast-moving program has been planned under the direction of Ralph Bisbee.

Speaker for the dinner will be Eugene C. Pulliam, publisher of the Indianapolis Star-News.

2 Thefts Probed By City Police

An assault and purse snatching at West First street and Sturges avenue Tuesday night and a pocket-picking in a downtown department store were under investigation today by police.

Rose Steinberg, 108 East Second street, reported to police at 10:40 p. m. that a man struck her and knocked her to the sidewalk at West First and Sturges, grabbed her purse and ran east on West First. She said the purse contained $1.25 in cash, keys and papers.

Louis T. Hartman, 177 South Trimble road, reported to police at 9 p. m. that his billfold, containing $20.25 was taken from his overcoat pocket in Kresge's department store, 23 North Main street.

Secretaries Add Member

Miss Sally Foster was admitted into membership of the Mansfield chapter, National Secretaries association, at the December dinner meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel Tuesday night.

The program was informal with songs by Mrs. Robert Donnan, accompanied by Mrs. Richard Wolford.

During the business period, plans were completed for the packing of a basket for a needy family. Miss Margaret Oswalt, Mrs. Iva Parsons, Mrs. Louise Jennings and Miss Dorothy Scott comprise the Christmas project committee.

At last night's session, Miss Mary O'Donnell, president, had charge of the business session and Mrs. Mary Jane Gardner conducted the program.

Anything moving at 60 miles an hour travels 88 feet per second.

Calls Party 'Best Ever'

"The best we've ever had," was the way Russell Gimbel described the annual Friendly House party held Monday night in the gymnasium.

After the program Santa Claus appeared, played realistically by Irl Fisher, and distributed "treats" provided by the 40 et 8 and the Hermit clubs. Each of 250 children at the party was given an orange, apple and bag of candy.

Harold McCuen was master of ceremonies and Miss Bearice Bourgeoise, staff member, led in singing Christmas carols. Edward Stanton ended the program with a half hour of piano music.

Friendly House was gaily lighted for the party. The tree which had been installed in the kindergarten was brought out to the library and a big lighted tree in the front yard, gift of Miss Wilma Zeigler, welcomed the guests for the evening. In the gymnasium, artificial greens were used to decorate the walls and form a cheery background for the Christmas gayety.

Enlistees End Boot Training

They are James D. Morhead of Shelby, Raymond P. Brown of Lexington, John W. Grady of Cardington, and Loran P. Alexander of Crestline.

The men, all enlisted here Sept. 28, will be assigned to ships or stations when they report back to duty Dec. 28.

Brownies Share Christmas Fun

The Brownies from Troop 3 have shared part of their Christmas with the children at the county Children's home.

They went to the home Monday afternoon, and each girl brought one of the playthings which she cherished, to give to one of the children.

In addition, they took pop corn balls, cookies, and candy canes.

Leader of Troop 3 is Mrs. Robert M. Stevens. Assistants are Mrs. Dwight A. Weir and Mrs. Kenneth L. Woodman.

Credit Curbs Irk Used Car Dealers

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Cleveland used-car dealers, tangled in financial doldrums, will appeal to the U. S. government to relax credit buying restrictions, which they say have hindered "new-used" car sales.

A committee of dealers was to be appointed today to campaign for modification of regulation W controls over installment buying, according to Sam Greenfield, president of the city's Used Car Dealers association.

Holiday Driving Caution Warning Issued By Berger

Mansfielders planning to leave on holiday trips in their automobiles were warned today by Jack Berger, secretary of the Richland county Automobile club, to be especially careful on the highways.

Despite the happy nature of the Christmas season, Berger said, the joy of Yuletide is marred in accidents.

Driving in the city holds many dangers too, he added. Much of the difficulty is caused by pedestrians during the pre-Christmas shopping tours. Many of them, in a hurry to take advantage of Christmas sales, forget the dangers of jay walking and cross streets between intersections. Their vision is sometimes obscured by piled up Christmas gifts, and they don't see cars until it is too late.

Driving is a full-time job any time, and especially when streets are packed with shoppers, Berger stressed. Extra care is one of the ways to guarantee a joyful holiday season, he declared.

Berger said the Auto club has purchased 10 tons of rock salt to help members fight winter driving conditions. It advised motorists to check their anti-freeze, batteries, and generators. Adding a little denatured alcohol to gasoline protects a car against condensation of moisture in fuel lines, the club said.

Four 'Great' Stories In 1948 Ohio Sport Spotlight

By JIM DAILEY

COLUMBUS — (UP) — There were thrills a-plenty in Ohio sports in 1948, but four stories held the greatest attention of Ohio readers during the year.

The Cleveland Indians..the Cleveland Browns—the Ohio State football team—and a swift Ohio state track star were the heroes of the Ohio sports world in 1948.

The Indians held the headlines throughout a hectic baseball season as they waged a thrilling seesaw battle to win their first pennant and world series championship since 1920.

THIRD FINE YEAR

The Cleveland Browns of the All-America conference wound up their third season of domination of that loop by slaughtering Buffalo, 49-7, for the league title. It was their 15th win of the year and 24th game without a loss.

The Ohio State football team overcame great obstacles to ride over six opponents for a successful 1948 season and Mal Whitfield of OSU became an Olympic hero by scoring more points than any other contestant.

Whitfield led the world in point-scoring as he garnered two first and a third in this year's Olympic games at London. He ran the anchor position in the victorious 16-hundred meter relay team, came in third in the 400-meters, and scored a smashing triumph in his specialty—the 800-meters—with a new Olympic record of one minute 49.2 seconds.

Also prominent in 1948 track events was Baldwin-Wallace's star hurdler, Harrison Dillard who set a new record of 82 consecutive victories only to lose out unexpectedly in the Olympic qualifier at Evanston, Ill. The Negro ace, a product of Cleveland scholastic track, qualified however in the 100-meter dash and romped home to win at London, England.

BITTER FIGHT

The Indians had a bitter uphill fight on their hands, ending the season in a dead heat with the Boston Redsox and winning in a thrilling playoff game in Boston, 6 to 3, to gain the pennant. Then they battered down the Boston Braves, four to two, to take the series.

Ohio State's football team, if only for its sheer fight and spirit, was deserving of top billing. Coach Wes Fesler and his assistants made it that way by making the boys believe in themselves.

The Buckeyes finished with a win-loss record of six and three, the worst defeat being to Northwestern, 7-21. They battled the best team in the nation—Michigan—to a standstill in the first part of the game before going down to a tough 13 to 3 loss.

Other Ohio State university teams did creditably. The track squad, led by Captain Lloyd Duff, won the big nine indoor championship by edging Illinois, 43-40: the fighting gang of sophomores on the basketball teeam landed fourth in big nine standings; and swimming coach Mike Peppe, with the held of OSU divers Miller Anderson and Bruce Harlan, scored a victory for the US in the Olympics.

Golf came in for its share of the spotlight.

The Inverness tournament, a best-ball affair at Toledo attracting the finest golfers in the land, went to Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret for the fourth time.

Dapper Lloyd Mangrum, the second best money winner of the golfing year, took the invitational and 17-year-old Don Addington of Texas won the national caddie tournament at Columbus.

The Vandalia Trapshoot — The premier shooting event in the land—was dominated by John Schenk, a ruddy faced truck farmer from Sharpsburg, Pa., who won the big event—the Grand American Handicap.

On the college front Denison and Heidelberg landed on top in football with undefeated records, while Wooster and Ohio Wesleyan had the best of it in basketball.

Massillon high licked previously undefeated Canton McKinley to throw the Ohio high school football race wide open. Claimants to the mythical state championship included Martins Ferry, Ashtabula, Newark and Gallipolis among undefeated teams, and Middletown, Hamilton, Alliance and Lakewood among the once-beaten.

In basketball the Findlay Trojans ran rough-shod over all opposition in the state tournament at Columbus to take the title.

And the Columbus Redbirds of the American association gave their supporters a boost by staying in the playoffs until the last out was made. After landing in fourth place in the pennant race, they fought St. Paul to a 4 to 3 close decision in the final playoff game of the Governor's cup to lose the championship by a hair.

International Police Force Seen For Ruhr

LONDON — (AP) — An international industrial police force will be created soon to patrol the Ruhr and prevent Germany from developing secret arms work for a new attempt to dominate the European continent.

A diplomatic source who declined to permit use of his name or even of his nationality, reported this decision today as one of the major accomplishments of a six-country conference on the future of the Ruhr.

The conference also has decided to set up an international control board—with Germany as a member—to boss the Ruhr's production.

According to this diplomat, the international board will supervise the workings of the police force. The police force will maintain a periodical inspection of the Ruhr plants to see that they did not exceed production limits set by the western powers.

Morals Too High So He Gets Fired

FOSTORIA — (INS) — Safety-Service Director Frank H. Kinker of Fostoria will be out of a job after New Years because his morals and standards are too high.

At least, that's the only reason given by Mayor Charles A. Latshaw when he fired his appointee. When Mayor Latshaw told Kinker he would be replaced Jan. 1, the director pressed him for a reason. He was told:

"Well, your morals and Christian standards are too high. With election coming up my friends have told me I should reorganize if I am to be re-elected, and that I must replace some employes."

In addition to the two Mustangs the 164th has six T-6 trainers used mostly for instrument training. The squadron also expects to get a B-26 bomber for towing targets, and a C-47 cargo plane for hauling men and equipment.

Bonus Worker Finds Holiday Not So Good

COLUMBUS—(UP)—John Van Meter can take it but don't rub it in with those "Merry Christmas" greetings.

The 24-year-old supervisor of irregular claim files for the Ohio World War II bonus fund was evicted from his home here the day before Thanksgiving. He had to send his wife and two-year-old son to Galion to live with his parents.

Monday night he worked overtime to get bonus checks mailed so veterans would get them in time for Christmas. When he finally finished he found a thief had taken $300 worth of clothing and Christmas presents from his car parked in front of bonus headquarters.

Our "New Years" Wish for You

Let others wish you the big important things! Our wish is that the coming year be filled with the little day-to-day joys which, after all, are the bedrock of true happiness. May those unexpected telegrams bring you only the news of births. May the Tygers whale the living day-lights out of Massillon and may Junior make the school varsity. May Joe Stalin meet the fate of Rasputin. Harry Truman handle the budget as successfully as his recent campaign and John L. have pity on your coal bin. May the neighbors' dogs respect your next summer's garden plot. May your basement dream become closed-end. May your bridge parties break up with only kind words for the hostess and all your cakes come out light as a puff of smoke. May you have good health, good nerves and good times. May the Bluebird of happiness nest beneath your eaves and may the good Lord take a liking to you!

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Tojo, Three Others Die With Shouts of Defiance on Lips

Banzai Cry Rings Out At Gallows

Priest Describes Last Moments

TOKYO — (AP) — Hideki Tojo and three of his six war-maker companions gave lusty "Banzai" shouts before they were hanged in Sugamo prison yesterday.

The last act of defiance by the four of the seven old condemned men came in the little Buddhist temple near the death house, Shinso Hanayama, the priest who attended them, said.

The Banzai cry—which means blood for the emperor—featured the last charges of many Japanese soldiers in the great war. Tojo and his companions also shouted for a greater Nippon before going to the gallows, the priest said.

Tojo, whose military clique plotted and ordered the infamous Pearl Harbor attack and plunged half the world into its greatest war, asked for a drink of sake before he went to his death. But he had to be content with a glass of weak wine, the priest said.

The priest described Tojo and the other three of the first four hanged shortly after midnight as almost jaunty.

Tojo, said the priest, left a message for the world which he was forbidden by occupation authorities to make public.

The former premier also left a poem, which the priest translated roughly:

"It is goodbye
"Over the mountains I go today
"To the bosom of Buddha
"So happy am I."

All seven of the Japanese war leaders grasped wine glasses in their handcuffed hands and swigged a hefty drink before marching to the gallows, the priest said in a press conference after the executions.

Gen. Seisjiro Itagaki, who was hanged for aggression against China, told the priest that he prayed "for the rise and prosperity of China and Korea."

Another of the doomed men, Koki Hirota, 70, the only civilian, asked the priest to tell his family that "I died silently and calmly."

Hanayama said that Tojo raised his Buddha rosary in his left hand above his head in a gesture of prayer when he was informed in the office of the Sugamo commandant yesterday he would die. Then, said the priest, Tojo mumbled to the commandant in English:

"Okay, okay."

Tojo asked the priest to thank prison officials for his treatment. He ordered a last meal of rice, soy bean soup, broiled fish, coffee, meat and jam, the priest said.

Hanayama said he had been forbidden to make public anything that happened in the prison except religious subjects.

But the priest revealed Tojo had asked him specifically to thank prison officials for giving him 24 hours notice before his death.

"I thought they might get me suddenly, like out of bed," he quoted Tojo.

As news of the hangings spread through Japan temple bells tolled for world peace in village and town.

Ditch Job Rejected

County commissioners yesterday turned down a petition calling for improvements to the Payne ditch in Plymouth township when landowners agreed to carry out improvements on their own.

Commissioners said the landowners, Ed Trauger, Roscoe Hutchison and Ira Snyder would go ahead and make a cleanout of the ditch.

The petition to the commissioners had called for opening 600 feet of the 1,400-foot tile ditch to facilitate drainage as the present tile was not large enough to efficiently drain the area

Ohio Land Values At High Level

Above Average For Nation

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Farm land values in Ohio have remained stable and unchanged since hitting an all-time high last July.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics said in a report today that the farm real estate index in Ohio was 239 on Nov. 1, the same as it had been July 1.

The index is based on average land values in the 1935-39 period. This average arbitrarily is called 100. The 239 figure means that Ohio farmland on Nov. 1 was worth 139 per cent more than it was in 1935-39.

The bureau does not translate its index into dollars and cents. However, using separate census figures as a base, it can be estimated that the average value per acre of Ohio real estate increased from $66 an acre in the 1935-39 period to a current figure of $158.

The index for Ohio farm land values increased 20 points—or nine per cent—in the year since Nov. 1, 1947.

The November, 1947, figure—219—equalled the previous peak for Ohio land values reached in 1920 after the first war.

The index has been climbing steadily since the 1935-39 period. Using March 1 estimates, it was 106 in 1940, 154 in 1944, 167 in 1945, 193 in 1946, and 218 in 1947. On March 1 this year it stood at 230.

Nov. 1 indexes in states near Ohio included: Michigan 234, Indiana 259, Pennsylvania 185, Kentucky 284, West Virginia 189.

Nationally, the farm land value index stood at 213 on Nov. 1, an increase of two per cent in the four months previous and an increase of eight per cent above a year ago. The biggest increases, generally, were in the wheat-growing states.

Asia Slams Door On Refugees

Fleeing Chinese Find No Haven

SINGAPORE— (AP) —Chinese fleeing from war and starvation in their homeland find the door slamming shut in the fertile countries of southeast Asia.

Only Indochina allows the Chinese immigrant to enter in unrestricted numbers. She does it unwillingly. Indonesia, Siam and Malaya either won't admit him at all, or keep his numbers small.

The European rulers of prewar Malaya, Indochina and what was then the Dutch East Indies welcomed the thrifty, hardworking Chinese. He toiled long for little. The politics of his adopted country mattered little to him as long as they didn't affect his money making.

That policy has given each southeast Asia country a large, little-assimilated Chinese population. There are 2,600,000 in Singapore and Malaya (about 46 per cent of the population), between 2,000,000 and 4,000,000 in Siam, almost a million in Indochina and 1,800,000 in Indonesia.

Except in Malaya they are a minority, sometimes (as in Indonesia) a numerically small one. But they work harder, save more and have a superior talent for trade, result—everywhere they control business and commerce, sharing it only with the Europeans.

Meanwhile, during and after the war, a strong wave of nationalism swept southeast Asia —the Annamites in Indochina, the Indonesians in the Indies, the Malays in Malay and the always independent Thais of Siam.

Many want to get rid of Europeans. The more astute and ambitious among them also want to get their hands on the business and commerce which pays the Chinese vastly more than most peasants get for tapping rubber and tilling rice.

Accompanying this is a jealous fear of the Chinese, widespread among the masses. Blood-letting followed in the wake of the Japanese occupation. Malays attacked Chinese in North Malaya in early 1946. In Java and Sumatra, Indonesians in 1947 massacred several thousand Chinese. Similar incidents, on a smaller scale, have been reported from Indochina.

Union Loses Court Fight

COLUMBUS, — (AP) — A CIO steelworkers union yesterday lost its attempt to carry a picketing injunction violation case to the Ohio supreme court.

The high court refused to review lower court decisions that unionists violated a temporary restraining order issued at the request of Lake City Malleable, incorporated, Ashtabula, Sept. 17, 1947.

Ashtabula county common pleas court on Oct. 21 found 11 members of the united steelworkers union guilty of violating the picketing injunction. Similar charges against several other unionists were dismissed.

The company charged the union violated an agreement and caused a work stoppage Aug. 21. A strike vote carried Aug. 25 and picketing followed. The firm said threats were used to prevent delivery of goods to the plant and the court action followed. The appellate court upheld the common pleas court decisions.

Men In Fighter Squadron Bring Cheer to Home Children

By NITA BRANSON

Members of the 164th Fighter Squadron can't exacly be classed as "Santa's Helpers," but they have done a great deal this week to help the old gentleman make Christmas merry for a lot of youngsters at the Richland County Children's Home.

When Sgt. Paul Bemis and Sgt. Charles Caugherty, of the squadron personnel, suggested that the men make cash donations toward buying toys and sporting equipment for the home, men of the squadron dug down into their pockets and came up with more than $150. When they started out to buy toys, they were given an extra 75 by the Sears store. These needed only minor repairs.

So this week the 30 men at the Mansfield Airport where the squadron is stationed, have been taking turns from maintenance work to do minor "operations" on miniature machine guns, clocks, marble games and other toys.

"Today at 1 p. m. Santa is going to fly over the home," Capt. William Ash explained. "Later, the Old Gent presumably will take the toys out of the plane and they will be driven to the home in a jeep."

F-51s and F-6s may have suffered a little this week for want of maintenance, but the men of the 164th have had a grand time remembering the 55 children at the home.

The cash collected will be used toward filling out the children's lists and buying equipment that all can use together.

Confession Wrong

CHICAGO —(UP)— A lie test showed today that Herlindo Perez Arias, 31, lied when he confessed the rape murder of a 10-year-old girl but authorities said the test was inconclusive unless later examinations show Perez is normal mentally.

Deferment Steps Cited

COLUMBUS— (UP) —Adjt. Gen. Chester W. Goble, director of the Ohio Selective Service, says that employers wishing the deferment of an employe should make a written request to the employe's draft board before or at the time the employe files his selective service questionnaire.

An employer is not prohibited from filing information after the registrant is classified, Goble said, but it is much better to have the information before any action is taken.

He pointed out, too, that an employer, in order to have the right of appeal, must have filed a written request for deferment of the registrant prior to the determination from which he would appeal.

Present conditions require only a concise and legible letter from employers containing only information pertinent to the requested deferment, Goble said.

Putrid Polecat, Green Eggs Add Spice to Day's Routine

HOLLYWOOD — Screen star Humphrey Bogart and his wife, Lauren Bacall, won't be home for Christmas this year.

Their two Boxer pups found a skunk in a nearby canyon and dragged it into the house where they started playing tag with it.

The Boxers went to a kennel for a deodorizing. The Bogarts started shopping among their friends for a place to spend Christmas.

Red eggs . . . green eggs . . . it's enough to send a man to Bellevue.

The eggs under discussion were laid especially for Christmas by some very cooperative chickens on the Feldman Farm and Home Center, near Milford.

The chickens, who are not too bright, produced the tinted ovals when they were fed harmless vegetable coloring in an experiment designed to prove that a "hen lays what she eats."

Donald R. Florea, president and general manager, said, sorry, the eggs won't go on the market, but he's satisfied that the color of a yolk can be controlled by the food the hen gets.

CHICAGO—Three gunmen were busy robbing the two owners of the Vince Auto Sales company when a truck driver entered to collect a bill.

Unaware of the robbery, he explained to one gunman he had called for his weekly collection payment.

"How much do they owe you, pal?" one of the gunmen asked. "One dollar," the driver replied. The robber paid him. Then after the driver left he and his two companions escaped with $3,000 in cash and $1,600 in checks.

Now it's down to "one shopping day until Christmas"—and a short one, at that.

Why bother about raising the President's salary—when he gets his Christmas turkey for nothing?

John Newton Baker, in Your Life magazine, presents the thought: "The average American believes that he is entitled to life, liberty and a new automobile in which to pursue happiness."

Viaduct Still In 'Talking' Stage

FOR THE BENEFIT of newcomers to Mansfield it may be said that there is no immediate prospect of constructing a viaduct over the Erie and Baltimore & Ohio railroads in the western part of the city—as was again mentioned in yesterday's News-Journal.

Such a structure is badly needed—as it has been for many years—but it is another of those things that are talked about from time to time, but nothing actually done . . . which induces a pessimistic attitude on the part of observers.

While chief emphasis in recent years has been placed on safety and convenience of children from the northwest part of the city attending Senior high school, the fact is that such a thoroughfare would also accommodate much of the motor traffic that now tends to congest Bowman street.

It is noted that City Engineer W. C. Statler advises use of the long-talked-about location of Howard street on the north and Rowland avenue on the south, as the most desirable for the proposed improvement, with the estimated cost placed at $600,000.

Hope continues that sometime, somehow, that project will be carried through—but not soon, we fear.

Brings Recollection of Pearl Harbor

IT IS CREDITABLE to those upon whom responsibility rested, that no public display was made of the gruesome spectacle of hanging Tojo and his six associate war instigators in Tokyo yesterday.

It is enough to know that the executions were carried through as directed by the international court which found them guilty of starting an undeclared war against the United States by the infamous attack on Pearl Harbor, December 7, 1941, and the deaths of these monsters in human form can be considered a process of extermination rather than punishment.

Little will be gained, however, by killing these seven men, unless the development of others similarly inclined can be prevented, either by persuasion or compulsion, from following a like course at some time in the future.

Industrial Expansion To Continue

UNITED STATES industries are still busy expanding their plants. A department of commerce and securities exchange commission joint report says that outlay for expansion in the last quarter of 1948 will be the highest for any quarter on record, and that continuing outlay in the next three months will be the highest for the first quarter of a year.

This bustling winter activity does not necessarily mean that industry has laid aside the doubts which gloomy spokesmen have been voicing since the election. The Investment Bankers Association still maintains that expansion will decline in 1949.

Its viewpoint could be more accurate than the figures of the government report. For one thing, the government paper indicates that the expected record first quarter expenditures in 1949 actually will buy less in the way of buildings and machines than were added by industry in the corresponding period of 1948. There is a legitimate question whether the trend of expansion is to be measured by dollars laid out or by actual gain in industrial capacity.

The unhappy outlook held by some business leaders results chiefly from fear of anti-inflation measures which might be passed by Congress under impetus of the November election statistics. Apparently building and replacement activity are to continue at something near a steady level until the temper of Congress is known. Then industry will be better able to determine its future course.

Don't Overlook Intangible Values

THE European Recovery Program will face searching examination in Congress in connection with the requests for funds for the coming year. It is expected that Congress will take ample time for study of the reports of what has been done in the first year of the program. This is as it should be.

It should not be expected, however, that the Economic Co-Operation Administration will have a great deal to report in the way of visible material results. A year is too short a time for much obvious accomplishment on a program of such ambitious proportions. Nevertheless there are some nations, of which Denmark appears to be the most notable, which can point already to specific economic progress for which the recovery program gets credit.

The program is probably as much political as economic, and there are signs of political results. There is some question whether the losses of the communists in Italy can be attributed to the American program, but there is no doubt that it has helped to save the shaky Third Force in France. It has contributed to unrest in the fringe of Russian satellite states along the line of demarcation between East and West. It promises to be an effective instrument in the ideological contest with communism.

It is also a humanitarian project. Not everything that is being accomplished with American dollars and goods in Europe can be set forth in a report to the appropriations committees of Congress. The intangible values are great.

An Iowa girl has been acclaimed the "ideal farmer's daughter"—search has now turned to locating the "ideal traveling salesman."

Folks who complain that they "are not understood," usually are.

While the Iron's Hot

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—It is the intention of the Truman administration to move swiftly and energetically in Congress with the President's program. The object is to strike while the election and its mandate are still hot, in order to get as much of the program on the statute books as quickly as possible.

Around the White House these days you hear talk of "ninety days," which is reminiscent of the famous "first hundred days" of the first Franklin D. Roosevelt administration in 1933.

The "ninety days" is a sort of target and, as a matter of fact, if there is energy in the drive it could be possible to get a good deal of the social welfare program through Congress fairly promptly.

There are, of course, differences in the present situation and that of the famous "first hundred days," when so much was done.

The "ninety days" slogan does not mean anything like what Republicans used to call "the blank check" of the early Roosevelt era. The times are different and the objectives are different. Those were days of dire emergency and measures had to be slapped together quickly to patch up an economy badly shattered by the depression—to salvage banks and businesses and homes and farms and put people back to work and feed those who couldn't get jobs. It may be recalled that a bank rescue bill was put through in one day, before many members had a chance even to read it.

These are not days of domestic emergency, except for inflation, and the inflation control bill is in the emergency category. Aside from that, however, what is at issue now is a program of expanded service to the people through their government.

This program has been long in the making, has been carefully prepared, and has been discussed exhaustively for years. It was discussed again in detail by the President in the recent campaign. In which it became the major issue, and was approved by the people on Nov. 2 in an election in which they also chose a Democratic Congress to back up the President. Governor Dewey endorsed the same general social welfare objectives, so what the people want is clear and unmistakable.

* * *

Will Try Again.

IT IS NOT a new program at all. It is the program that President Roosevelt had laid before Congress and which President Truman has submitted time after time.

Every measure included in it has been considered before by committees of Congress and two of them, the long-range housing bill and the federal aid to education bill, have been passed by the Senate, the former on two occasions.

The time of debate is over. Now is the time for action.

It is the aim to move promptly because the forces still determined to check this program, and they are powerful, are again active.

They have pulled themselves together since the election and are busy sending out the alarm and laying their lines here. The President and his advisers are very conscious of that.

They have been surprised, if not shocked, by evidences that some big interests did not learn a thing from the election, which is found not only in White House mail, but in attitudes taken by business groups since the election which the White House has observed with misgiving.

Their antagonism is directed at anti-inflation legislation because of necessary controls, as well as at the social welfare program embracing housing, aid to health and education, minimum wage increase, social security expansion, among others.

Death Enters Spy Case

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—If you've ever read a Greek tragedy, you'll remember how it was.

Death hovered over it. You could almost feel the chill breeze from its slow, circling wings. Then it pounced.

In the Washington spy case death has swooped twice and has even struck along the edges.

It began its slow circling on Friday, Aug 13.

That was the day Harry Dexter White sat down in the hearing room of the House un-American activities committee to try to clear his name.

He had taught at Harvard, worked for the government 13 years, been assistant secretary of the treasury.

He hadn't been convicted of anything. No one had proved anything against him. But—

His name had been brought into the spy case by Elizabeth T. Bentley and Whittaker Chambers.

They are both ex-communists who said they had been messengers for a communist underground among government officials.

Neither said White was a communist. But Miss Bentley said he had been part of a group set up to give communists inside government information. Chambers said White had been closely tied in with the communists.

So White asked for a hearing, for a chance to defend himself publicly.

On that Aug. 13 when he faced the committee he was 56 years old, and very ill. He had had a heart attack some time before.

He denied ever being a communist or close to being one; ever knowing Miss Bentley or Chambers. He protested his loyalty to the United States. The questioning began.

White scribbled a note and passed it up to the chairman. The chairman read the note aloud:

"I am recovering from a severe heart attack. I would appreciate it if the chairman would give me five minutes rest after each hour."

The questioning went on, with time out for White to rest. When it ended White went home. In a couple of days he was dead of another heart attack.

* * *

Merely "Mentioned."

THEN there was Laurence Duggan, 43 years old.

For 13 years he had worked for the state department, held a job of great trust.

He died Monday night in a fall from his office window on the 16th floor of a New York building.

Shocked when he heard of Duggan's death, Sumner Welles, former undersecretary of state, said of him:

"He was one of the most brilliant, most devoted, and most patriotic public servants I have ever known."

But his name, too, had been brought into the spy case in a mixed up way with no charge ever made against him.

The records of the un-American activities committee show that Isaac Don Levine, a friend of Chambers, told the committee this:

That Chambers once had mentioned Duggan as one of six people in the state department who "had passed confidential information along."

Levine told that to the committee a couple of weeks ago.

But Tuesday Chambers denied he had ever said what Levine said he had said: that Duggan gave out information.

In fact, Chambers said, he had never met Duggan. He added: "He was a gentle and sensitive man from what I heard about him and he was devoted to his family."

Last week Chambers' wife, who hasn't been involved in the case at all, was charged in the automobile death of a woman on a Maryland road.

Mrs. Chambers was driving to the station to pick up Chambers who had been testifying before a New York grand jury which was investigating the spy case, too.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

'Deflation Control' May Be Necessary

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers is keeping it very quiet but they are now studying an anti-deflation program as well as an anti-inflation program.

The President's advisers have been bombarded during the past four weeks with confidential memoranda revealing that business is down in many parts of the country. Department stores in some areas report business off as much as 18 per cent. The appliance industry also complains that the demand for radios, refrigerators, electric ranges, vacuum cleaners and other produce has slumped.

Layoffs have been growing and employment has dipped below the 60 million mark for the first time in close to a year. This, of course, is still an extremely high figure and one we never expected to attain before the war.

The council also has memoranda which show that savings in the lower income brackets have been nearly wiped out by higher prices. In 1946, 63 per cent of America's families owned U. S. savings bonds. This year only 48 per cent of the families own bonds.

This is why some members of the Economic Council believe a deflationary spiral may be under way and a recession actually here. As a result, they are taking an entirely fresh look at the whole economic picture before drafting the report on which President Truman will base his State of the Union address.

Note—The big question the council has been unable to get an answer to is: How much money will the military men in the Pentagon need next year? If the Pentagon is held to the 15-billion-dollar limit President Truman has set, then, council members feel, the deflationary spiral may continue. But if the brass hats succeed in jacking up the budget several billion dollars, the council believes inflation will still be a danger.

* * *

Small Business Suffers.

THE Marshall Plan is proving a lush windfall to American big business, but not to American small-business men. They complain that the recovery program is hurting instead of helping.

The European countries are so hard up for U. S. dollars that they have agreed to buy as much from each other as possible, saving dollars to buy only essential American items.

As a result, they have cut off trade with small U. S. exporters wherever the goods can be obtained within Europe. Meanwhile, trade has gone largely to big U. S. concerns with European branch offices and representatives. The little companies which can't afford foreign branches are losing out even on normal trade.

* * *

Diplomatic Pouch.

AMBASSADOR Bedell Smith will return from Moscow in about three weeks—probably for the last time . . . There are some very red faces among officials of the International Bank. Last month they loaned half a million dollars each to the supposedly peaceful countries of Costa Rica and Nicaragua. Now it appears that some of this money is being used to finance war and revolution—at least in Nicaragua . . . U. S. Ambassador Caffery in Paris has cabled an interesting prediction to the state department. He predicts that General deGaulle will come to power—"legally or illegally"—by May 15. (That's the ambassador's prediction, not mine.)

* * *

Rural Electrification.

RAMPAGEOUS Senator Langer of North Dakota has called seventeen leading manufacturers on the carpet to explain why Rural Electrification Administration co-operatives aren't getting enough electrical equipment. The companies called to Washington for hearings Dec. 28 include: General Electric, Westinghouse, The Aluminum Corporation, Anaconda and Phelps-Dodge. Langer charges that these firms have been delivering scarce equipment to private power companies while cold-shouldering REA co-ops.

Assignment: America

Guarded, Up To a Point

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—The life of the President of the United States is perhaps one of the nation's most carefully protected properties—up to a point.

That point, along the pathway of presidential security, is where disciplined, meticulous thinking must end and imaginative thinking must begin.

At this stage, it is needless to go into the intricate and devious physical protections provided for the President, the surrounding him with efficient armed guards, the checking of his travel routes, the constnaly alert surveillance of all his audiences . . . Those things are well known to the American people.

It is pertinent, however, to go into the unenforced rules of the Civil Aeronautics board. They can be found in the civil air regulations, part sixty, pertaining to air traffic rules.

On page three of that particular pamphlet, Rule No. 60.107 concerns itself with minimum safe altitudes over congested areas.

Washington is, of course, a "congested area." Further, it has a definite "restricted area" over which planes are not allowed to fly, except for takeoffs and landings, when necessary, or in case of emergencies or with special permission. (There may be a few other exceptions to the rules, but those are the important ones.)

Nevertheless, it is possible for anyone who can pilot a plane or pay for the ride to fly over Washington at far below the legal altitudes, and to criss-cross back and forth over the White House, the Capitol building and all the other restricted area establishments.

Not only is it possible (at this writing)—it is simple, and it is done with casual regularity.

If some citizen down on the streets below knows the rule, sees the plane, gets its number and feels like protesting to the proper office, his charge will go through channels and the pilot may be punished . . . providing, of course, the charge can be proved, or the aircraft operator chooses to admit it.

Seldom do such charges stick, unless C. A. B. spotters themselves are taking a hand in enforcing the rules.

The simplicity of making such illegally low flights—and through restricted areas—over the White House, for example, has been proved to their own satisfaction by several people, including this correspondent.

* * *

It's a Simple Matter.

HALF A DOZEN phone calls to charter or flying service outfits in the Washington vicinity received almost identical answers.

Certainly, they would fly you over the District on a sight-seeing tour . . . certainly, they would fly low enough for you to take pictures.

Yes, if necessary, they could make several passes over any of the downtown buildings—within reason, of course . . . Yes, you could bring along whatever equipment you needed . . . No, there was no necessity to get any special permission . . . it would be okay.

Further, just such trips have been made, experimentally. (Since almost anyone will do them, it is needless to incriminate any two or three pilots by listing names and dates.)

Lest there be a flurry of denials on this point, it is only necessary to add that anyone with even a student pilot's (solo) license can rent a plane almost anywhere and do as he pleases.

Unless he makes a stunting spectacle of himself, the chances of his being caught and punished are almost negligible.

In any case, whatever damage he might have planned would be already done.

Asked about these incidents, a civil aeronautics official laughed and said:

"Sure, nobody pays a damn bit of attention to the rules!"

Told of the incidents, one of the Army officers charged with the defense of the nation's capital, frowned momentarily, then said:

"After all, those are somewhat like traffic laws. Didn't you maybe exceed the speed limit, driving out here to the Pentagon?"

Dave Boone Says:

ST. GEORGE'S Episcopal church in New York dedicated a nativity scene with live animals Sunday. It was a real effort to glorify in the eyes of the children the story of the manger at Bethlehem, and it rates a big hand.

* * *

A child rarely forgets its first glimpse of a church reproduction of this wonderful Christmas scene. These days, when, outside the church, every advantage is taken of modern staging improvements to capture and hold the public eye, it is good to see a church doing something along this line.

* * *

The wonder and glory of that starry night at Bethlehem can't be portrayed too vividly in the nativity scenes.

* * *

Of course live animals can't be used, except outdoors, but the mangers as depicted in too many churches are so old, battered and unimaginatively done that is just too bad. They should be creations of rare beauty set up with care and effort.

Timely Editorial

Experimental Stage.

The use of fluorine in domestic water as a preventive of dental caries appears to have the indorsement of a part of the dental profession, while others are inclined to wait for more convincing proof before advocating this measure.

Reports as to the efficacy of sodium fluoride in water—about one part to 1,000,000—are conflicting as they come from cities which are trying the experiment—Newburgh, N. Y., Grand Rapids, and others.

The subject is certainly worthy of careful study and scientific checks over a sufficient period of time to be convincing for or against this use of fluorine.—Detroit News.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

WE HAVE another day left to send Christmas cards to those who sent us Christmas cards thinking we would send them Christmas cards.

* * *

This is the same predicament as the man who never could make his coffee and toast come out even . . . always he was half a slice ahead or a half a cup behind.

* * *

And it is advisable also to chart a direct course now from the back door to some store that will be open Christmas day.

* * *

The news from Indonesia indicates that they have received nothing they wanted for Christmas and the present visitors bear little resemblance to the Netherlands jolly St. Nicholas.

Our state department which just expected to send out a few cards for Christmas now has to write a note or two.

Farmer's Diary

Out Late at Night

By CALVIN A. BYERS

I HAD read until late, and I opened the door to put out the dog and the cat. They went shiveringly, for the north wind was cold, and I saw them scurry around the house corner. The moonlight seemed enticing, somehow. I quickly got my heavy overcoat, hat and rubbers, and decided to take a brisk bedtime walk along our gravel road.

I dod nit go far, westward, until I came to my neighbor's corn field with a big fodder shock at the edge of the bank. I climbed up to the large compact circle of sheaves, laid aside one heavy bundle, and crawled inside. By moving back and forth, I soon made for myself a little room, where sitting was easy and comfortable.

Warm, too, for the sharp wind did not enter, and the ground beneath was unfrozen, and soft to my feet.

I sat snugly there, when footsteps approached from without, and Skipper, the curly black dog, came half way in, expressing delight at finding me in my new home and hoping I'd let him inside.

I told him I thought it was just a bit small for us two, though I thanked him kindly for offering to help me keep warm. He guessed he'd trail raccoons or possums, then, and turned to go, when in came Muggins, squeezing through without any encouragement, to crawl up on my shoulder and begin to purr. I told her where I thought some field mice lived, and she went out, not a bit disturbed by my inhospitality.

I stayed on, in the fodder shock, after both had left. I heard the snow flakes dribble down on the dry stover. The wind was strong, and I felt its force against my light-built house, but took a child-like pride that no draft could touch me. In the fine quiet moments that followed, I closed my eyes and rested. Some white-foot mice were urgently collecting corn from inside broken husks . . . a few English sparrows that my coming had frightened away, noisily found new resting places . . . then everything was quiet.

The countryside seemed deep, wide, and meaningful . . . A language where their voice was not heard . . . a refuge and resting place for everything that lived, provided by a God who was not far off, but near at hand.

When I reached my home again, the house was dark. Only light smoke drifted from the chimney. As I softly opened the door, both cat and dog brushed past my legs and preceded me in.

As Cerf Tells It

Sam Welles, just back from a trip to Russia, reports that the Muscovites still have one humorous magazine, called "The Crocodile," in which, surprisingly enough, the editors are allowed to kid the shoddiness of Soviet products. A typical cartoon showed two climbers roped together high on a mountain. One sneers, "Afraid of the cliff, eh?" The other answers, "No, I'm afraid of the rope. My factory made it."

Career Highlights of Hanged War Criminals

(By Associated Press)

Here are brief career highlights of the seven Japanese leaders who were hanged for war crimes in Tokyo yesterday.

Gen. Hideki Tojo, 63. The principal defendant and personification of the Japanese enemy to most of the Allies throughout the war. Led Japan into the Pacific conflict. Fell from power in 1944 after Japan suffered reverses. Critically wounded himself in a suicide attempt after the surrender but was saved by transfusions of American blood.

Known to Japanese as "The Razor" because of keen, ruthless mentality. Created greatest sensation of the long trial when he took the witness stand and ably defended his wartime and prewar actions. Reiterated his call to Asiatics to unite, and declared he believed history would justify him.

★

Gen. Kenji Doihara, 64, Japanese army's expert undercover operative in China and Manchuria. Nicknamed "The Bird of Evil Omen" by the Chinese. Helped seat Henry Pu-Yi on the puppet throne of Manchoujuo and Wang Ching-Wei as chief of a wartime puppet government in China. Commanded armies in China, Malaya and Japan during the Pacific war without notable success, his talents admittedly being greatest as a secret agent.

★

Koki Hirota, 70. Foreign service career man. Three times foreign minister and became premier in 1936 when assassinations by army plotters overthrew the Moderate government. Retired in 1938 but attended the pre-Pearl Harbor conference of former premiers at which war plans were revealed. Served in the House of Peers throughout the war.

★

Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, 63. Former war minister and former chief of staff of the Kwantung (Manchurian) army. Was ranking officer in Mukden at time of the 1931 incident that started conquest of Manchuria. Commanded armies in China, Korea and Singapore during Pacific war.

★

Gen. Heitaro Kimura, 60. Former commander in Manchuria, vice minister of war throughout Tojo's premiership, and subsequently commander of army in Burma. Accused of responsibility for wholesale atrocities committed by his subordinates.

★

Gen. Iwane Matsui, 69. Commanded the army that raped Nanking in 1937. Defended Japanese actions in Manchuria before League of Nations. Was absent from trial for long periods due to illness.

★

Lutz said she was at one time employed in the office of Carlton F. Miller and company, insurance adjusters, and before moving to Mansfield seven years ago, was secretary to the director of the state highway patrol at Columbus.

Lutz also has announced his recommendation to the committee of James J. Mayer, Shelby attorney, as assistant prosecutor.

Dutch Miller's Back In Uniform

After ten days in the city, Dutch is back in uniform. I don't mean Army khaki or Navy blue—but a different uniform, that's every bit as patriotic and American.

Blue jeans and a denim shirt, for work around the yards and barns; stout boots for tramping through the fields; and a straw hat when the sun gets high—a uniform you see from Maine to Texas, Iowa to Alabama.

It's the uniform of an army—the great army of American farmers who, by their productivity, are helping to keep this nation strong—bolstering the forces of democracy that guard our freedom.

And in their way of life, too, they are champions of freedom. Temperate folk who enjoy a moderate glass of beer—but never quarrel with those who prefer cider. Tolerant people who fight to the bitter end against oppression and intolerance. From where I sit, a credit to America!

MR. AND MRS. GLEN S. VINSON, who have been wed 50 years, received their many friends and relatives last evening at a reception in the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel. The golden wedding anniversary was appropriately observed at the beautifully appointed party which was attended by 200 guests.

Preceding the formal reception, Mr. and Mrs. Vinson entertained 30 relatives and close friends at a cocktail party and dinner in the clubroom. The long tables were decorated with gold ribbons, yellow roses and tall lighted tapers in candelabra.

Large bouquets of yellow mums and roses decorated the room and at one end of the ballroom was a large Christmas tree of a golden hue, trimmed with gold colored balls.

The refreshment table was centered with a five tiered wedding cake, a picture with its rosebud trim and gold leaves. On the top was the inscription "50." At either side were the champagne tables, decorated with bouquets of red carnations and roses and large white tapers tied with gold ribbons. All three tables were laid with white cloths which were decorated with gold ribbon streamers.

During the evening music was furnished by Mrs. Joy Herbert, harp soloist; Miss Beverly Wentz, vocalist, and Mrs. Ruth Isham, pianist.

Mr. Vinson presented his wife with a diamond wrist watch as her anniversary gift.

Receiving with the couple were their daughter, Mrs. Stuart Weaver, the former Lillian Vinson, and their son, Stanleigh Vinson, both of this city. Mr. Vinson is president of the Ideal Electric and Manufacturing company and has been active in civic affairs for many years.

Guests last evening were in attendance from Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Warren and Columbus, as well as their many friends from this city.

At the same time a group of close friends in Sebring, Fla., where the Vinsons have spent many winters, were observing the anniversary there in their honor.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, December 24

ALTHOUGH the spirit of good will, festivity and elation are greatly stimulated by planetary aspects, promising heightened generosity, hospitality and diverse expansive and extravagant proclivities, there are as well signs of overdoing, careless indulgences, over-enthusiams and prodigality, creating unhappy reactions—strife, rash acts and words, with an undertone of the tricky and sinister menaces.

Those whose birthday it is may find an urge to view affairs with a large, free, generous and expansive state of mind, with ambitions and aspirations urging to high levels of accomplishment. This in social, professional, financial and commercial associations. Yet should this be overdone or exaggerated in any phase, there could be not only loss and complications but disputes, rash words and regrettable acts.

A child born on this day, while fitted for large operations, high aims and ambitions, in many relations, yet may be defeated by overdoing in its emotions, drives and hopes. It may be reckless, turbulent, and be subject to fraud and duplicity.

Try this holiday shape in coffee cakes. Swirl a long roll of sweet yeast dough back and forth on a greased cookie sheet to form a large Christmas tree, allowing the branches to touch. Palestine Violence Renewed

TEL AVIV—(UP)—Heavy fighting broke out in south Palestine today, shattering the uneasy truce in the Holy Land even as it prepared to celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace.

Jewish and Egyptian armor, infantry and planes went into action in the rainswept Negev desert, defying a United Nations order for peace in Palestine, a Jewish military spokesman announced

The spokesman said Israeli forces cleared the Egyptians from the whole northern Negev, and opened up lines of communications to Jewish settlements cut off in the Faluja pocket.

Israeli and Egyptian artillery opened up in the early morning and thundered for hours, softening up the opposing strong points for the ground and air activity which followed

Armored units were next to swing into action, according to the military spokesman Heavy rains had turned the usually arid fields into morasses, and the armor had to stay on the main roads

PLANES DUEL

Fighter plane duels were reported over the entire front looping in an irregular pattern through the semi-barren region which had become the main prize of contention in the Palestine war.

One of the focal points of the new fighting was the Jewish settlement of Nirim in the western Negev. An Egyptian armored column operating around the village was engaged by Jewish forces.

The outbreak abruptly ended the troubled peace in Palestine since Nov 16 when the United Nations Security council ordered the Jews and Arabs to stop fighting

Two youths were bound over to the grand jury under $1 500 bond in municipal court today after they pleaded innocent to charges of auto theft

Robert J. Shoup, 20, of 274 Myers avenue, was charged with the theft of a car from the Willys and Jeep Sales and Service on East Third street on Aug. 1.

The other youth Robert M Gale, 18, of Galion, was charged with theft of a car from the Schonauer Motor Sales, on West Fourth street on Aug 27

The two youths were arrested earlier this week after an extensive investigation by city detectives. The two stolen cars were recovered near Parma

The car belonging to Rogers was found in a Parma garage after it was involved in an accident, sometime after the theft of the vehicle The Schonauer vehicle also was recovered in the Parma area

Detectives said the arrests cleared up a number of other offenses.

In another case, Isah Tillman, 121 East Fourth was fined $10 and costs for failing to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian

Goonan's Love Dreams Fall Apart as Bad Checks Pile Up

CLEVELAND—(UP)—The clouds he had been walking on suddenly parted today and dropped William Goonan, a member of the road company of "Allegro," into Central police station

But more important than the minor charges of defrauding an inn keeper, Goonan said, he feared he has lost the love of Miss Patricia Barker, a 24-year-old actress in the cast.

It all began in Boston shortly after he joined the troupe. To gain the affection of Miss Barker, Goonan began sending her flowers She rewarded him with smiles, he said, and the expense was worth it

Thus encouraged, Goonan invited the attractive actress to dine with him That was too expensive, particularly since he picked only the nicest places

TROUBLES MOVE, TOO

Then came time for the show to move on to Pittsburgh. The hotel presented him with a bill for $441, including the flowers and dinners. Goonan admitted he wrote a check to cover the bill and also truthfully admitted he didn't have a checking account, police said

In jail here today, Goonan explained that his take home pay amounted only to $78 a week

In Pittsburgh, he said, it was the same thing . flowers, dinner, big bill, bad check This time in the amount of $273

Police caught up with the 22-year-old singer today. He agreed to return home to Freeport, L. I., N Y., try to forget Miss Barker and make enough money to pay the hotel bills.

Miss Barker said sadly she had no idea he was over-spending to such an extent "The whole cast likes him, and I'm very much interested I wonder what I can do?"
